

NET - NeueEnergietechnik GmbH

Offices: Montabaur, Trier

NET is an innovative and future-oriented engineering office. Their offer includes multisupplier consulting and planning of all types of new and renewable energy projects. NET works out environmentally beneficial concepts using only failure-free and profitable technologies that have proved successful in practice. More than 10 years of appropriate experience in planning and development of wind power projects - a head start in wind energy backed up by the multidisciplinary of this team of wind power pioneers.

GEOHIL Erdwaermeanlagenbau AG Deutschland

Office: Strausberg

The company builds geothermal power plants and offers relative services. GEOHIL uses its patents protected in Europe and the United States through an unlimited license agreement.

LEONARDON GmbH Management & Consulting

Office: Hannover

The holding company LEONARDON consists of three individual companies which differ in the technical background but have tight points of contact and synergies

Umwelttechnik & Ingenieure GmbH

Office: Hannover

Umwelttechnik & Ingenieure GmbH (u&i), Hannover is an independant engineering office. In their capacity as advisors and planning office, they work out technical and scientific documentation. Assessments, planning and project control in the fields of the Federal pollution control right, building lease, rules related to the use of water, legislation on waste and mining are their daily business.

Witzenhausen-Institut

Office: Witzenhausen

(Research institute for waste, environment and energy)

Services of Witzenhausen-Institut of Kassel include the drawing of concepts and balances relative to waste treatment for the Federal Estates of Germany, bodies under public law that are responsible for waste treatment as well as industrial companies, especially under the aspects of residual and biological waste treatment. Further to this, the institute makes up analysis on waste, environmental management systems, assessments on waste and environment as well as mass flux detection. It organises special conventions and trainings and issues special publications.

---

GU<sup>2</sup>Q

Office: Hannover

GU2Q are authorised experts in environment in various fields, among others for legal bodies responsible for waste treatment and traffic. Services include environmental management, quality management, consultancy, etc.

